Police don MCC role; clear bus stand footpath

THEN AND NOW: The encroached footpath near Sub-Urban Bus Stand that has now been made free by the Police for smooth pedestrian movement.

Mysuru, Oct. 27 (SBD, KS& BCT)- There was space for everyone on the footpath near the ever-busy Sub-Urban Bus Stand in city, except pedestrians. Not anymore, as the Police have now cleared the footpath of all encroachments by street vendors and have set an example to the Mysuru City Corporation that was supposed to do this job.

The Police move has earned wide public appreciation.

Street vendors crowded the entire stretch from St. Bartholomew's Church till the Bus Stand. Thousands of commuters go to and fro the Bus Stand to reach their destinations. Though the footpath is broad enough, a portion of it was occupied by autorickshaws and street vendors selling items including cut fruits, flowers, watches, clothes, footwear, belts, wallets, purses, sun glasses, plastic items, caps, hats and food items.

This stretch is frequented by people to reach Sangam Theatre, Clock Tower, Town Hall, City Bus Stand, Devaraja Market, Ashoka Road, K.T. Street, Gandhi Square, Sayyaji Rao Road and surrounding places. Sadly only three to four feet of the footpath was left free for pedestrians.

Public nuisance

These encroachments were a big nuisance for pedestrians as there was no space for them to walk. Many a time, their life would be at stake as they walked on the busy Bengaluru-Nilgiri Road. Star of Mysore had published a report on Oct. 25, highlighting the mess. Following the report and a series of complaints by the public, the Lashkar Police swung into action last morning and cleared encroachments.

Sending out a stern message, Lashkar Police, led by Inspector N. Muniyappa, asked the vendors to move out to make way for pedestrians.

After clearing the stretch, the Police put up a board warning of action if the footpath is encroached again.

The warning board reads "Instructions have been given not to conduct any business on footpath which is illegal and legal action would be initiated against those people conducting business on footpath illegally."

Deepavali holidays spur tourist flow to city

Mysuru, Oct. 27 (MTY,PM& US)- Weekend, coupled with Deepavali holidays, contributed to heavy rush of tourists to city with most of the popular tourist spots buzzing with crowds.

Zoo: Mysuru Zoo received 4,000 visitors between 8.30 am and 11.30 am today with a gate collection of Rs. 4.12 lakh, according to Zoo Executive Director Ajit M. Kulkarni.

Chamundi Hill: Chamundi Hill Temple too received a lot of devotees. Many of them were disappointed to miss the famous Nandi Statue as the access road to that spot was closed to get the retaining wall back in place which had caved in recently.

Palace: Mysore Palace too saw the rush which is likely to swell in the next two days, said Palace Board Deputy Director T.S. Subramanya.

Tourists flock Sri Chamundeshwari Temple atop Chamundi Hill this morning.

Extra buses: To manage the movement of tourists, KSRTC has provided 300 extra trips to Bengaluru from Mysuru in addition to the regular 450 trips. Additional trips are also arranged towards Madikeri, Kushalnagar, Shivamogga, Mangaluru, MM Hills and Nanjangud, according to KSRTC Divisional Controller (Rural) R. Ashok Kumar.

Hotels: Cent percent occupancy was reported today in 8,500 rooms in hotels and 90 percent booked for the next two days. Restaurants too are doing a good business, said Hotel Owners' Association President C. Narayana Gowda.

EDITOR'S BOTTOMLINE

For a country not embroiled in war, tribal conflict, famine, ecological disaster, domestic riots or any other local crisis, India is oddly one of the unhappiest places on earth. The 2019 UN Index of Human Happiness placed it at 140 out of 156 countries, ahead of South Sudan (tribal conflict), Yemen (civil war), Central African Republic (sectarian violence), Afghanistan (military conflict), Ethiopia (drought) and Somalia (crime and terrorism). The UN agency that came up with the ranking used six key markers to assess a country's happiness: freedom, income, trust, life expectancy, social support and generosity. Finland retains its position at the top, with Denmark, Norway and Iceland following close behind. That these countries are white, sparsely populated, grossly affluent, with a mildly socialist streak, and without political dissent is perhaps a good reason for their place at the top of the list. Because these countries belong to a culture with low levels of corruption, high public trust, quality social services, economic freedom, respect for human rights, political stability and low unemployment, their wellness is not just a statistic, but visible on people's faces. If such measures work for European happiness, do they also hold true for South Asia? A worsening physical life is the main cause of India's decline in the UN index.

Inventor accused of conning farmers to bring rain

Melbourne: An Australian inventor who has been peddling weather modification technology for almost 20 years, has been accused of charging up to $50,000 Australian dollars for delivering rain on demand without explaining the technology behind his business. Controversial inventor David Miles explains in his website that in the 1990's he realised that "it was possible to incrementally influence weather patterns using a variant of the Einstein – Rosen Bridge hypothesised in the 1930's, to effectively create a bridge between 'the present' in the physical space-time continuum, and a near-future event, forecast to exist from one to ten days ahead in time."

The Australian Competition and Consumer Commission (ACCC) has accused Miles Research (formerly Aquiess) of preying on people's desperation, and warned people against doing business with him, but the Australian inventor claims the ACCC is only trying to defame him and his company, as in reality they are success based – if it doesn't rain, they don't get paid.

Criminal's tomb with life-size statue and replica of Audi Q5

Granada: The marble tomb of a notorious truck hijacker is set to become one of the most famous attractions in the Spanish province of Granada, because of two bronze eccentricities – a life-size statue of the man buried there, and a realistic replica of an Audi Q5, the car he used to carry out his hijackings in.

Antonio 'El Tonto', was one of the most successful criminals in the history of Granada known for hijacking trucks and getting away with millions in merchandise, but he had also pioneered legal marijuana trade in the Spanish province. El Tonto died last year, at the age of 46, soon after being arrested for allegedly stealing seven trucks, but he remains in the memories of the people through some pretty unique tomb decorations.

VOICE OF THE READER

Let more UDAN Flights "Udne Do" from Mysuru

Sir,

At present there are more than half-a-dozen flights from our city every day to cities like Bengaluru, Chennai and Goa, etc., and as per the Director of Mysuru Airport, the occupancy rate is 80% to 90%. This is really a good news and will certainly reduce the burden on the already overburdened surface transport system.

This news gives incentive for two postponed items. One is to add flights to neighbouring cities like Mangaluru, Belagavi, Kannur, etc. The other item is to expand the runway urgently to accommodate larger jet aircraft to fly directly to Mumbai, Kolkata and Delhi without touching Bengaluru. This will cater to passengers from Kodagu and Nanjangud also.

The only flight which has a low number of passengers is the Mysuru-Bengaluru flight. This flight is at noon and is really not convenient to anyone coming to Mysuru on a day's business. Also it does not serve any international passenger as their flights invariably arrive in the early morning hours and depart late at night. To suit their requirements, I suggest two flights, one at 6.30 am from Bengaluru and back, and another around 5 pm from Bengaluru and back. These two flights will cater for international passengers as well as business executives who want to make a day's visit to the other city.

Madikeri Fort, Palace restoration

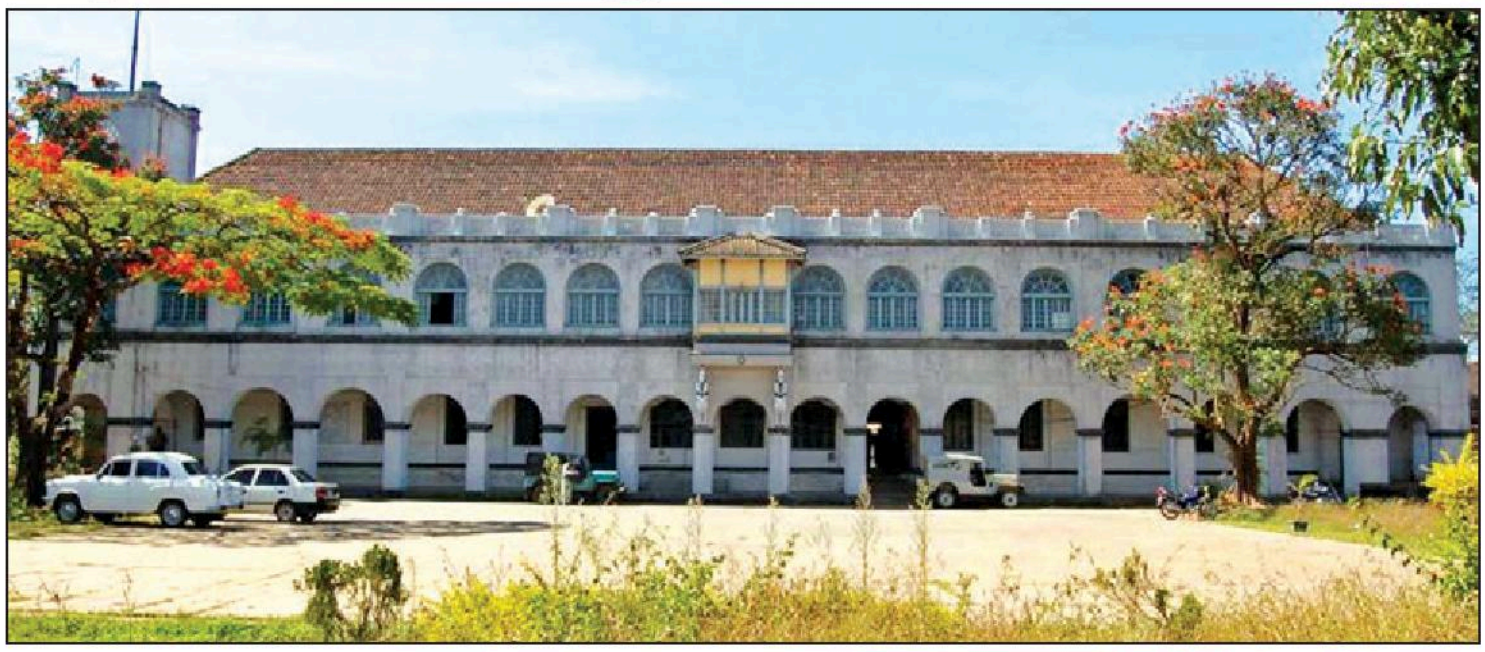
High Court orders contempt petition against officials



Bengaluru, Oct. 27 (ACP& BCT)- The Karnataka High Court has expressed its displeasure over the neglect of the historic Madikeri Fort and has directed the Government Advocate to register a Contempt of Court Case against officials for not obeying Court directives.

The Court was hearing the Public Interest Litigation (PIL) filed by J.S. Virupakshaiah, a retired IAS Officer and a resident of Somwarpet. The petitioner contended that the Fort and Palace premises are heritage sites, dating back to more than three centuries. They are neglected and the exterior walls of the Palace are infected with fungus.

The government is running its offices on the Palace premises and despite this the monuments are neglected with no action plan initiated by the officials. The petitioner had prayed before the Court to issue directions to the Government to vacate its offices and hand over the monuments to the Archaeological Survey of India (ASI) to maintain it.

Saving the monuments

The petitioner had said that the Government officials under the Zilla Panchayat had been functioning from the old Palace for many years. There are also offices of two MLAs and MLCs of Kodagu. A request was made to the ASI to take measures to preserve the Palace. The Government office buildings should be vacated first in order to take up the repair work. It was therefore inevitable to approach the Court, he contended. Also, there is an urgent need to save the historic monuments as incessant rains were causing harm to the structures.

Virupakshaiah said that the District Administration had promised to hand over the Palace by October end, to take up a temporary makeover. There is, however, no use of temporary work. In order to inspect the present condition of the Palace and the Fort, the officials from the ASI visited the Fort premises and have submitted a report to the Court on the matter, he added.

Roof collapse

The petitioner told the Court that in January this year, the roof of the Palace in the Fort premises suddenly collapsed. The walls of the Palace are discoloured and the soldiers' quarters have totally collapsed. The leaking roof of the main building was covered with plastic sheets as a temporary measure.

A Division Bench comprising Justice Abhay Shreeniwas Oka and Justice Krishnakumar noted that despite the Court order to shift the Government offices by Oct. 30, nothing has been done so far. Upset at the officers' attitude, the High Court has directed the Government advocate to name the officials and file a Contempt of Court Case against them. The High Court has now posted the hearing to Oct. 31.

Glorious history

History of the old Fort dates back to the 17th century AD. It was built by King Mudduraja of Haleri dynasty. Tipu Sultan rebuilt the Fort with stone. The Palace was built by Lingaraja Wadiyar II in 1812. The Fort was acquired by Dodda Veera Rajendra in 1790 and later came under the rule of British in 1834.

Earlier, the Deputy Commissioner's office too was housed in the same building. However, it was shifted to the present building four years ago.

The offices of the Agriculture Department, District Library, Court complex and Balamandira are functioning in the Old Fort premises.

The officials said that if the entire Palace is handed over to the ASI, the Central Government will release funds.

Offices must be shifted before Oct. 31: DC

Kodagu Deputy Commissioner Annies Kanmani Joy has directed the Assistant Director of Land Records to shift the Government offices from the Old Fort to the new building of Zilla Panchayat, before Oct. 31 as per the High Court orders.

After shifting, the Archaeological Survey of India (ASI) will take up renovation works of the historic monuments. Officials from the ASI visited the Fort premises and inspected the condition of the Old Fort building. The team of officials also furnished a report to the Court, on the probable steps towards the repair of the building. Following the same, the officials from various Government Departments agreed to vacate their offices.

'Kodagura Sipayi' film draws good response

Star of Mysore Editor-in-Chief K.B. Ganapathy seen displaying the traditional Kodava Peeche Katthi presented to Devaiah and Tejaswini Sharma by film Director Kottukathira Prakash Cariappa as other dignitaries look on.

Mysuru, Oct. 27 (YDS&US)- Kodava Samaja had organised the screening of the Kodava film Kodagura Sipayi at its premises in Vijayanagar 1st Stage here. Two shows were screened yesterday and three shows today.

The film under the banner of Coorg Coffeewood Movies is produced and directed by Kottukathira Prakash Cariappa.

Storyline

The story revolves around a soldier, who has retired from the Army and wondering what he could do for the wellness of society. Cariappa has excellently woven the story based on a simple baseline.

An attempt to keep alive Government Schools which are getting closed, challenges in homestays and the concern of the retired soldier to do something for the society all are featured in the movie which is adapted from a novel.

Former International Athlete and Ekalavya award winner Arjun Devaiah and model Tejaswini Sharma have essayed the lead roles wonderfully.

Stage programme

A stage programme was held after screening the first show. The film team was felicitated on the occasion.

Pink travel: Ladies coach in MEMU and DEMU trains

Mandya MP Sumalatha's nudge prompts Railway officials to act

Mandya/ Bengaluru, Oct. 27- Mandya MP's train journey from Mandya to Bengaluru that had invited several pro and against comments in social media has finally borne fruits. The MP had asked the Railway authorities to run a special train for women travelling between Mysuru and Bengaluru for work. Her demand had also received wide support online.

The officials, though not fully in agreement with the MP on an exclusive train, have decided to have a separate ladies coach in its 50 Mainline Electric Multiple Unit (MEMU) and 25 Diesel Electric Multiple Unit (DEMU) services that run daily between Mysuru and Bengaluru city and also neighbouring areas.

Bengaluru Divisional Railway Manager A.K. Verma said that the blueprint is being finalised and the Railways is keen on launching them along the Bengaluru-Mysuru and Bengaluru-Bangarpet sections. In case of trains which have a separate coach for women, the Railways will consider additional coaches based on demand.

To ensure women know their coach, the Railway officials have decided to demarcate the ladies section pictorially and in script. A portion (near the window) would be painted in pink. The marking of the ladies coach on the platform can be done in DEMU or MEMU trains as they have engines on both sides. In 16-coach MEMU trains, the first and last coaches will be for ladies.

In response to the MP's demand, Union Minister of State for Railway Suresh Angadi had recently said that a separate train for women on Bengaluru-Mysuru route was not possible as many families travel between the two cities and only women among them could not be permitted to come on board while the men could not be asked to come by a separate train. The Minister too had promised that more coaches for women can be added.

While the 8-coach DEMU trains will have one ladies coach, the 8 and 16-coach MEMUs will have one and two ladies coaches respectively. The train could start within a fortnight or in a month as time is needed to demarcate a separate 'ladies coach' in MEMU or DEMU trains.

Baking Thoughts

Cornucopia of sugar-coated confections on a platter

By Arathi Menon

If pastry-making is an art, Moksha Sharma is an artist. Having worked for YPL Group of Hotels in Malaysia, serving customers of top names like JW Marriott and Ritz Carlton, she's back home in Mysuru on a break before she flies off to Germany to don the mantle of the Head Chef of the central kitchen at the renowned Black Apron Bakery.

Meanwhile, she has written a cookbook, titled 'Sugar-coated Season' that's making waves in the baking industry. The book has exquisite recipes of pastries with seasonal Indian ingredients. The book was released at a hotel in Mysuru recently. Moksha says, "The USP of the book is that all the recipes are inspired by the seasonal ingredients available in India and are divided based on the seasons."

For example, the Mixed Fruit Tart is a summer recipe with all the summer fruits going into the tart while Panacotta with Fresh Pomegranate Glaze is a monsoon recipe considering pomegranates are monsoon's gift in India. "It has always bothered me that despite the fact that a wide variety of ingredients are available in India, we do not make use of them. A pineapple pastry you get here has pineapple preserves from a can when the freshest pineapples are so easily available in this country," she says.

What really makes her achievements seem incredible is that Moksha has managed these feats at a considerably young age of 24. She says she started chasing her passion at a very early age of 8. By 11, she was taking part in cooking competitions and winning accolades. "From a very young age, I was focused on baking and pastry-making. When I was in school and college, I was that girl who made birthday cakes for friends and teachers," she says.

She, however, took a degree in Business Management and went on to work at Jaguar and Land Rover in Bengaluru but kept her passion for pastry-making alive. Then she quit that job out of misery from not being able to pursue her true calling, she says, and did a short course in pastry art from Institute of Baking and Cake Art in Bengaluru.

Moksha went on to study at Le Cordon Bleu in Malaysia and topped her class in 2016. After she interned at JW Marriott in Kuala Lumpur, she got an opportunity to join them as the Pastry Chef from where she says she picked up the nuances of pastry art.

As for her future plans, she wants to educate people about the industry and encourage others too to come forward to take up pastry art. "We often look up to Chefs in the West. We are capable of being as good as they are," she says confidently.

She says she believes that "if one skilled person can teach 10 lay people, those 10 people will become skilled," and that's the way an industry would grow. While that's the primary career goal in her life, she also aspires to become India's Pastry Queen some day.

Moksha Sharma is the daughter of Krishan Kumar Sharma and Leena Sharma, residents of Nazarbad in city.

Flower sales up, crackers down

Mysuru, Oct. 27 (RKB&DM)- With the city witnessing rains almost everyday since the past ten days, Cracker sellers are having a hard time as the sales are not on their expected lines this Deepavali. The declining interest among the people has also contributed to the dip in cracker sales.

This year, crackers are being sold at ten spots spread across the city — Town Hall, JK Grounds, Hebbal Industrial area, near Bandanthamma Kalamma Temple on new Kantharaj Urs Road, Chamundipuram Circle, Valmiki Road in Vontikoppal, Vishwamanava Double Road, Ashoka Circle (Ballal Circle), Kuvempunagar and Ramakrishna Nagar Circle. Some of the shops are offering discounts of 20-25 percent. Gift boxes priced at Rs.300 and Rs.500 each are more in demand than loose and high-decibel crackers. However, cracker sellers are not giving up their hope on doing good business as yet, as they are expecting more customers.

Soundless crackers are the favourite choice of children.

Raghavendra, a cracker-seller at Town Hall, said that despite dampening spirits due to intermittent rains, he expects a good buyer turnout and better sales.

Meanwhile, with the authorities banning the sale of crackers that have over 125 decibel sound level, officials from the enforcing departments — Police, MCC and Karnataka State Pollution Control Board (KSPCB) are visiting cracker shops to check for the sale of very high decibel crackers.

KSPCB official B.M. Prakash said that crackers will be tested for the level of noise pollution using an advanced instrument and in case of any violations, the Board will write to the Government seeking to serve notice to the concerned manufacturer.

Pointing out that green crackers are marked with QR Code, he said that the city is estimated to have received 30 percent of green crackers this time and efforts will be made to increase this number next year.

Prices of flowers, fruits, vegetables stable

There is some cheer for the people this Deepavali as the prices of flowers, fruits and vegetables have remained almost stable at all markets. While Chrysanthemum is selling at Rs. 20-30 a metre, Marigold is selling at Rs. 50 a kg, Button Rose at Rs. 200 per kg and Lotus at Rs.10-20 each, depending upon the size. Apple is being sold at Rs.100-150 and Pomegranate at Rs.80-100 a kg depending upon the quality while there is a little fluctuation in the prices of vegetables compared to earlier rates.

However, the sale of earthen lamps seems to be dull with customers showing less interest in buying them.

Chennavva, a lamp seller near Devaraja Market said that on the eve of Deepavali yesterday, she did a business of just over Rs.400 which was short of her expectations. But she expects to do good business from now on and hopes for the stocks to clear.

Police don MCC role

MCC's responsibility

Footpath encroachment clearance is actually the responsibility of the Mysuru City Corporation and the Corporation usually takes the help of Police for that. But so far no elected representative took the initiative to clear the footpath for smooth pedestrian movement.

When Mayor Pushpalatha Jagannath's reaction was sought, she said, "We have discussed this issue in the Council meeting following numerous complaints from the public. We will bring this to the notice of the District Minister and take action."

Public happy

Meanwhile, public have lauded the Police action. What could not be done by the MCC since years, the Police have done it and solved the problem, people said. "Whenever there is a problem, we are quick to blame the Police. But with the co-operation from public, there is nothing impossible for the Police to implement people-friendly initiatives," said S.R. Sudarshan, a regular commuter from Mandya.

Will the MCC clear other footpath encroachments?

Mysuru, Oct. 27- With the Sub-Urban Bus Stand footpath encroachments cleared by the Police, the question now is will the Mysuru City Corporation (MCC) clear other encroached footpaths in city.

There are many footpaths which have been encroached by vendors which is a serious issue and the MCC authorities have not bothered to clear them. Vendors rule many streets, transforming main thoroughfares into street food hubs and marketing areas, leaving behind mounds of garbage and blocking free movement of pedestrians and traffic.

The ever-busy Raja Marga starting from Mysore Palace, Sayyaji Rao Road, Highway Circle (Elephant Circle or Maulana Abul Kalam Azad Circle) to the LIC Circle, Tipu Circle near Millennium Circle, Bannimantap, St. Philomena's Church, road in front of Mysore Central Jail, Bake Point Junction to T.K. Layout near Kuduremaala Road or Manasa Road are dotted with footpath vendors.

Charitha, a private company employee told Star of Mysore that most of the footpaths on the main roads are encroached upon by roadside vendors. "We are forced to walk on the road. Two-wheelers who ride in rash and negligent manner often hit us and flee without even stopping to see. Such minor accidents go unreported. We are not sure if we have to blame the bikers or the roadside stalls that have encroached the footpaths or Mysuru City Corporation for not clearing them out," she said.

Mysuru: A Look at its Past...

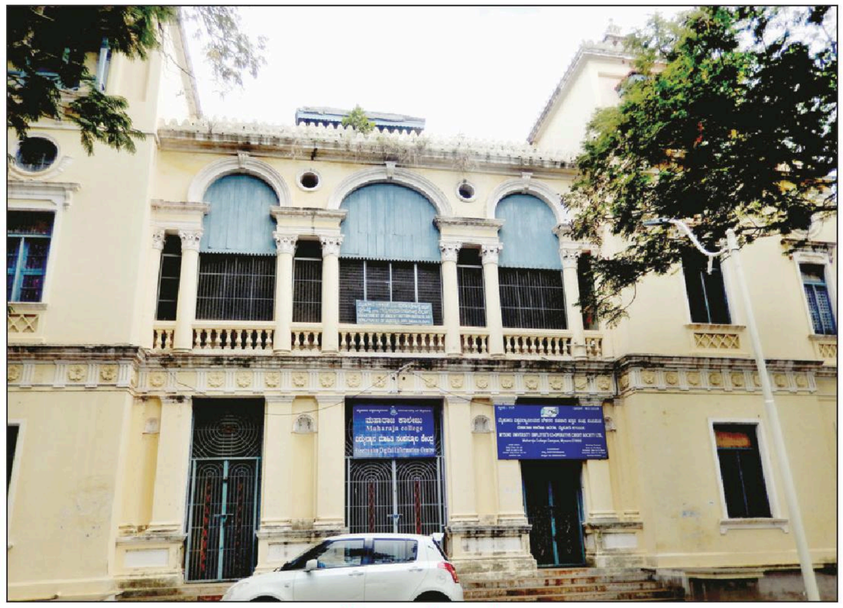
By Gouri Satya, Sr.Journalist

Nearing century, Varsity Union building cries for attention



Though authorities claim Mysuru as a 'Heritage City', the erstwhile royal city is facing the threat of losing its edifices fast and soon. Many heritage structures stand neglected with no up-keep, projecting their dismal condition. The latest addition to the list of such neglected structures is the Maharaja's College Union Building, which is on the threshold of its centenary.

Weeds have grown almost all along the edges of the ceiling and a glaring fault line runs down towards the arch where the wooden protection has a crudely opened hole to take a cable into the building. The walls are shabby and plaster on them has peeled off at many places. Windows are broken and the roof is leaky, posing threat to the architecturally unique structure on the campus.

A prominently positioned sign board at the left corner of the aesthetic building says it is the "Union Building" and notifies both in Kannada and English, "Mysore Heritage", indicating that it is a heritage building. It is built with brick and lime mortar, like many other heritage structures in Mysuru. I was told many students of architecture visit the heritage structure to study its unique architectural features.

Just a few months for century

The College Union was founded in 1915 while the Union Building came up in 1920. While the century-old Union no longer in existence, the Union Building is short of a few months of its century. The University should have thought of celebrating the occasion, taking pride in having such a beautiful two-storeyed building on the campus.

The Union Building was a hub of student and teacher activities right from its inception almost till about the 70s. It now houses the Department of Journalism, the Electronics Digital Information Centre, the Mysore University Employees' Credit Co-operative Society, and ironically, the Department of Ancient History and Archaeology.

A similar building was built at the Central College Campus in Bengaluru, ten years later by Maharaja Krishnaraja Wadiyar IV.

Desperate need for restoration

Sadly, a centre of activities and participation of such eminent teachers and students, who earned fame in the later years and earned laurels for the Maharaja's College and the Mysore University, the Union Building today stands crying — crying for restoration. The Lansdowne Building and the Devaraja Market in the heart of the city have remained neglected for the last few years, obviously to allow them to collapse on their own, the civic body turning a deaf ear to the repeated plea from the public to restore them.

Just a few days ago, the portico of the century-old Fire Station at Saraswathipuram collapsed following heavy rains and now a proposal has been made to demolish its office building. Likewise, many other heritage structures that add grace and beauty stand neglected with no upkeep whatsoever. One only hopes that Union Building will not go the way these buildings are allowed to face damage, more so when its centenary is round the corner.

What eminent personalities said...

A hub of intellectual and cultural activity

"Writing about the Union Building in Central College campus, Meera Iyer, Convener, Indian National Trust for Art and Cultural Heritage-Bangalore and a researcher, says, "Modelled after the Cambridge and Oxford Unions, among the two oldest debating and literary societies in the world, Central College's Union had a reading room and library, facilities for table tennis, draughts and chess and most importantly, a debating hall. Unlike in the British University Unions, membership here was compulsory for all students of Central College and the Engineering College. The faculty was also members."

"The College Union soon became a focus for intellectual and cultural activity. It hosted debates and talks by several eminent speakers and became a training ground for future leaders of society," she writes.

Activities began in the Maharaja's College Union in Mysuru about a decade ahead. The Union became a spring-field for all extra-curricular work — literary, cultural and indoor activities of students and teachers. Prominent men in public life were invited to address the students and staff members.

Mentioning about the College Union in the "Maharaja's College Centenary Commemoration" volume of 1951 under the caption, "Our Alma Mater through One Hundred Years", Prof M.V. Krishna Rao of Department of Political Science describes it as, "That institution which now embraces within itself almost every extra-collegiate activity comprising the Historical, Literary, Dramatic, Debating and Social Service Sections, each under the care of Branch Secretaries."

When skylarks of the Union came out singing

"Prof. N.A. Nikam, an "Old Vice-President of the Union", who later came to head the University as Vice-Chancellor, writes in the same volume, "Transplanted from the Universities of Oxford and Cambridge, the Union found a native soil in the Maharaja's College famed for its Cambridge and Oxford Professors: C.R. Reddy, N.S. Subba Rao, A.R. Wadia and J.C. Rollo."

Prof. N.A. Nikam

"I was contemporary to those major events which gave body to the activities of the Union, and life to its intellectual atmosphere: Freshmen's Debate, Staff Debate, Inter-Collegiate Debate, Elocution competitions, election of a student Vice-President and inauguration of the Student Magazine. Professor J.C. Rollo, as the first President, introduced into the Union Debates the grace of Parliamentary practice and procedure." Prof. S. Radhakrishnan, who later rose to hold the country's highest office of President of India, was the first elected Vice-President of the Union.

"The Union found its voice in the debates, and its pen in the Union Magazine, founded during Professor B.M. Srikantaiah's (B.M. Shri) tenure of office as President, with an editorial of unsurpassed grace by the Staff Secretary, S. V. Ranganna. The skylarks of the Union came out singing, telling us of their saddest thoughts," Prof. Nikam adds.

Silvery eloquence compels respectful hearing

"Writing under the caption, "The Union of My Time", C. Narasimha Moorty, who was the Student-Secretary of the Union in 1950s, recalls the association of eminent personalities in the Union debates and says, "One can never forget certain personalities — Principal J.C. Rollo, who enlivened the dullest of the subjects with a style of speech fresh like air in the fields around the Maharaja's College on a morning after a night of summer rain and with delightful humour; Prof. A.B. Mackintosh whose child-like eyes twinkled with mischief when he countered heavy argument with delicate sarcasm; Prof. A.R. Wadia whose silvery eloquence compelled respectful hearing; Prof. V.L. D'Souza, who could, with or without previous notice, make an appropriate speech for any occasion, and whose jokes, stories and anecdotes made him the most popular "Mr. Speaker"; Prof. C. R. Narasimha Sastry who spoke English with Vedic accent and whose undisguised cynicism thrust points home; N. Kasturi whose genuine wit and refreshing outlook marked him out as an accomplished speaker; and M.A. Venkata Rao whose profound learning and fluency made one wonder whether thought or speech was the quicker of the two with him."

Such were the speakers and debates that drew students in large numbers. The students showed a keen interest in the debates and members of the staff, "from whom we derived inspiration and intellectual sustenance" also attended them. Equally popular were the dramas staged by the members and the staff.

Moorty also recalls the association of personalities like M.P.L. Sastry, N. Srinivasamurthy, Union President K.B. Madhava, Staff Secretary N. Kasturi, and those who took part in Union dramas like N.S. Narayana Sastry, Ahobalachar, V.K. Srinivasan, A.M. Natesh, A.C. Narasimha Murthy, B. Krishna Moorty, C.B. Jaya Rao and N. Nagesh Rao, "who were endowed with histrionic talent of the highest order." All these and other personalities made a name in the fields they chose in the later years.

Regular elections were conducted to elect the office-bearers. A Union Magazine was published every fortnight highlighting the Union activities and containing refreshing articles. The Union had a large membership and enough revenue to conduct its activities. With sufficient money and facilities for self-expression in various fields, it was, "a potent agency for the development of personality among University students."

Real forest experience awaits visitors at Dasara Expo

Mysuru, Oct. 27 (MK&KS)- Visitors to the Dasara Expo can now have real forest experience, as the Forest Department has created a unique artificial forest, which was inaugurated by Principal Chief Conservator of Forests (PCCF) Jagath Ram recently.

Artist Srinivas

The PCCF, who went around the forest, expressed happiness on seeing the models of wild animals placed in such a way to resemble real forest.

Speaking to the media, the PCCF said that the forest has been created with the theme 'Wildlife and Forest Conservation' and added that one could visit the forest and get information about it.

Deputy Conservator of Forests (DCF) Dr.K.C. Prashanth Kumar said that this year the forest has been created keeping in mind the importance of wildlife conservation and added that the artificial forest has come out good.

He said that the steps taken by the Forest Department to control man-animal conflicts and the functioning of the Department from check post to check dam has been explained. Life size models of wild animals have been placed in the forest to give visitors a real experience of forest and attempts have been made to introduce the specialities of a few animals, he said.

The importance of forests which are being destroyed by humans for their greed is explained, he said and added that wild animals have the right to live in freedom just like human beings.

The artificial forest is the work of artist Srinivas and his team of 40 members, who took about 20 days to create the artificial forest. Apart from the life size replicas of animals, the sound of tigers roaring, chirping of birds, trumpeting of elephants provide real forest experience.

Also, visitors can get various information through posters put up at the forest pertaining to wildlife and forest conservation, man-animal conflicts, ill effects of poaching wild animals, fire lines etc.

Chief Conservator of Forests (CCF) T. Heeralal, Assistant Conservator of Forests (ACF) Krupanidhi, Deputy Conservator of Forests (DCF)- Wildlife J. Alexander, DCF T. Venkatesh and others were present.

City Mayor and Deputy Mayor's tenure to end on Nov. 17

Government yet to announce reservation matrix for election

Mysuru,Oct.27(RK&DM)- With the tenure of the incumbent Mayor Pushpalatha Jagannath and Deputy Mayor Shafi Ahmed set to end on Nov. 17, the Government is yet to announce a new reservation matrix for the election of new Mayor and Deputy Mayor.

With no single party getting an absolute majority on it's own in the 65-member MCC, the Congress and JD(S) entered into a coalition post the polls held in August last year ,following which Pushpalatha became the Mayor and Shafi Ahmed her Deputy, in the Mayoral polls held on Nov.17,2018. With the tenure of the incumbent Mayor and the Deputy Mayor ending in another 20 days, the MCC Council Secretary has written to the Secretary of the Urban Development and Municipal Administration Department seeking to announce the reservation matrix for the election of a new Mayor and Deputy Mayor for the second term of the five year tenure of the MCC's governing body.

After the government announces the reservation matrix, the Mysuru Regional Commissioner will announce the poll schedule.

The last time, the government had reserved the Mayor's post to woman (general) and the

Pushpalatha Jagannath Shafi Ahmed

Deputy Mayor's post to Minority community and as a result Pushpalatha Jagannath of the Congress was elected as Mayor and Shafi Ahmed of the JD(S), the Deputy Mayor.

Now with the BJP Government in the State, City BJP leaders are working behind the scenes to get the reservation matrix that best suits the party, although the party does not have the required numbers to come to power on it's own in the MCC. However, with the Mayoral polls round the corner, it is not known whether the ruling Congress-JD(S) combine will continue with the alliance or not.

This year, it is expected that the government may reserve the Mayor's post to ST category, with only Bharathi from the community occupying the post in 2006.

Hectic political activities will begin once the government announces the reservation matrix, with all the three major parties — Congress, JD(S) and BJP, working out strategies to occupy the chair of the first citizen of the city.

MUDA allots two sites to one woman applicant

Mysuru, Oct. 27- Even as thousands of applicants are waiting for decades to get a site from Mysuru Urban Development Authority (MUDA), the government agency is in the news again for wrong reasons as it is found to have allegedly allotted two sites to a woman applicant.

Rajeshwari, a resident of Kuvempunagar, is the one who has been allotted two sites, thanks to MUDA's largesse. Rajeshwari has been allotted a 20'x30' site in Shantaverl Gopalagowda Nagar and a 30'x40' site in adjoining Lal Bahadur Shastri Nagar, with the MUDA also issuing possession certificates to her. She has been allotted Site No.1572 in Shantaveri Gopalagowda Nagar upon payment of just Rs. 28,000 and site No.2305 in Lal Bahadur Shastri Nagar upon payment of Rs. 75,640.

An applicant must declare in a affidavit saying he/ she doesn't possess a site and seniority must be taken into account in the allocation of a site. But as per records, it appears that the documents were created on the same day in the woman's name and the dates were later fudged. The year of application of both the sites is 1992, but the month is entered as 13th in one of the applications, when actually there are only 12 months in a year. While the first application has the date 5th March,1992, the other one has the date 5-13-1992, which is ridiculous. What is more intriguing is that both the sites were sanctioned on the same day (Sep.1, 2007) and MUDA issued the possession certificates of both the sites to Rajeshwari within two days of each other. While applying, Rajeshwari had claimed that she did not have any site. The MUDA seems to have thrown all norms to the wind while allotting the sites to her, which is a classic example of how fake transaction is done with an intention of grabbing a Government site.

Meanwhile, MUDA Commissioner P.S. Kantharaju said that it has come to his notice that two sites were allotted to one woman and he has issued an order to carry out an enquiry.

WORD OF THE DAY

Futhark

Pronunciation: FOO-thahrk.
Meaning: The runic alphabet : any of several alphabets used by the Germanic people.
Origin: The word futhark refers to a writing system used by Germanic peoples, and especially by Scandinavians and Anglo-Saxons, from about the third to the 13th centuries. Its origin is unclear, but a likely theory is that it was developed by the Goths from the Etruscan alphabet of northern Italy, with perhaps some aspects being influenced by the Latin alphabet of the first and second centuries. The word futhark itself comes from the sounds of the first six letters used in the earliest of the main runic script varieties: f, u, th, a, r, k. While eventually fully displaced by the Latin alphabet, futhark was still used occasionally for charms and memorial inscriptions in Scandinavia into the 16th and 17th centuries.
Example: "The oldest inscriptions in futhark were found in Denmark and Northern Germany, dating from first century AD; at that time the inventory consisted of twenty-four signs. Later, by the 8th century, the range used in Denmark was reduced to sixteen...." — George L. Campbell & Christopher Moseley.

THE ODD WORD

Facinorous

Atrociously wicked.

PHRASE OF THE DAY

Hair of the dog

Meaning: The hair of the dog is a small measure of drink, intended to cure a hangover.
Origin: The fuller version of this phrase, that is, 'the hair of the dog that bit me', gives a clue to the source of the name of this supposed hangover cure. That derivation is from the medieval belief that, when someone was bitten by a rabid dog, a cure could be made by applying the same dog's hair to the infected wound. How many people managed to get bitten again when trying to approach the aforesaid dog to acquire the hair to achieve this completely useless remedy isn't known. The knowledge of the derivation should at least put paid to the frequent 'hare of the dog' misspelling.
With most metaphorical phrases that have a literal origin, for example toe the line and on the warpath, the later figurative use doesn't become popular until the literal use has fallen out of use. 'The hair of the dog' is unusual in that the figurative version is recorded before any known examples of the literal meaning. John Heywood, in his early text, A dialogue conteinyng the nomber in effect of all the prouerbes in the Englishe tongue, 1546, uses the phrase with a clear reference to drinking:
I pray thee let me and my fellow have
A hair of the dog that bit us last night -
And bitten were we both to the brain aright.
We saw each other drunk in the good ale glass.
